PREFACE

We have Vedic Index and Dictionary of Pali Proper Names prepared by eminent scholars. But such an index or a dictionary of Prakrit names was a desideratum¹. The task of preparing Vedic index or Pali dictionary was somewhat easy. It was so because most of the concerned Vedic and Pali works were published with indices. But different is the case with the Prakrit canonical works of the Jāmas. All the published works (barring some few exceptions like the four works published in the West and Bhratkalpabhasya edited in five volumes by Rev. Muni Shri Punyavijaya) contain no index whatsoever.

So we are extremely happy in placing before the scholars the first part of the Dictionary of Prakrit Proper Names. This is not a work of a single person but it is a co-operative work done by a team of scholars. I must thank all the scholars who co-operated in this common task.

The dictionary as a whole contains about 8 000 proper names collected from the canonical texts of the Śvetāmbara Jāmas. The names are collected not only from the original canonical texts but also from their printed Prakrit commentaries viz. Niryuktis, Bhaṣyas and Āgamas. But as the title of the present work suggests we have not selected the proper names from the Sanskrit commentaries on those original canonical texts. Of course, they have been utilised for supplementing the informations gathered under each item from Prakrit original canonical texts and Prakrit commentaries thereon.

The work was begun in 1959 by Dr. Hariprasad Shastri, Dr. J. S. Jetly and Shri K. K. Shastri by preparing reference cards from some of the texts with their commentaries. This task was finished by me when unfortunately they left the institute. When all the reference cards were ready the work of compilation was entrusted to Dr. Mohanlal Mehta under my supervision and guidance in the year 1961. Later in the year 1962 he was assisted by Dr. K. R. Chandra in finalising the compilation. These two scholars were again assisted by Pt. Rupendra Kumar Pagariya in finding out the references mentioned in the reference cards. Dr. Mehta left us in 1964. The revision was completed in the year 1967. The book went to press in 1968 when I was in Toronto. When Dr Chandra left the Institute in 1969 the task of getting the book printed fell solely upon Dr N J Shah.

1 Of course there exists one noteworthy work in Gujarati Language Jāna Āgamasāhityamāṃ Gujarat by Dr. B. J. Sandesara (Pub. Gujarat Vidyāsabhā) the scope of which is limited.

Like Dictionary of Pali Proper Names this dictionary too includes some names which are not proper names e.g. Tittthamkara Cakkavatti etc. It is hoped that they will be useful to the scholars.

While preparing this dictionary generally the compilers have not utilised the data available in other sources. They have collected data only from the Jain canonical texts and the Prakrit and Sanskrit commentaries. Only with regards to geographical names they have utilised the other sources. In spite of this I hope that the scholars will be benefitted by this dictionary because this is for the first time that the data from the Jain canonical literature is collected and arranged.

The printing of the work follows the pattern set out in the Dictionary of Pali Proper Names. Information of a particular name will not be complete unless the names printed in bold types are also consulted. The bold types are used to indicate that a name printed in those types is separately dealt with at its proper place. The Sanskrit and Prakrit terms used in description are in italic types.

The numbers given in brackets after the name printed in bold types indicate that the relevant name with that number is dealt with at its proper place.

I heartily thank Shri Kasturbhai Lalbhai the Chairman of the Institute for allowing us to undertake such an exorbitantly expensive project. Moreover I thank the Ministry of Education and Youth Service Govt. of India for sanctioning the publication Grant of Rs. 12,000/-

1 Amtaradiva (Antaradvipa) Intermediate islands numbering fifty six.² There are two islands on every one of the four sides of Jambūdiva standing in the intermediate quarters 300 yojanas away from Jambūdiva and at a situation where the Cullahimavanta and the Sihari mountains meet the sea-shore on both the sides of Jambūdiva. Every one of the two islands is followed by six more islands the latter standing at a distance of 100 yojanas from each other. Thus each mountain touching the sea-shore ends up in fourteen head lands or islands on its each side and the total number of islands come to fifty six.³ The names of the twenty-eight islands falling to the south as well as to the north of mount Mandara(3) are the same. They are divided into the following seven groups according to their diameter (i) Egūruya Ābhāsiya Vesāniya Namgoliya (ii) Hayakanna, Gayakanna Gokanna Samkulikanna (iii) Ayamsamuha Memḍhamuha Ayomuha Gomuha(2) (iv) Asamuha Hatthimuha Sihamuha Vagghamuha (v) Āsanna Hatthukanna Akanna Kanpapāuraṇa (vi) Ukkāmuha Mehamuha(1) Vijjumuha Vijjudamta (vii) Ghanadamta Latthadamta(4) Gāḍhadamta(4) Suddhadamta(2). The diameter of the first group is 300 yojanas while that of every succeeding group increases by 100 yojanas. Thus the last group has a diameter of 900 yojanas. There is a detailed description in Jivābhigama of the vedikas (pavilions) aśaṇḍas (groves) species of trees and men and women of these islands. In brief their inhabitants are of a peculiar shape and they live as if in paradise.⁶

Agada A physician who is famous for his modesty The story regarding him runs like this Once the territory of a king was besieged by his enemies He found it difficult to combat the forces of enemies as he possessed a meagre army An expedition struck his mind He started poisoning the water People offered poison for this purpose Agada also offered poison to the king The king got angry in as much as the quantity of the poison offered by Agada was very small Agada said in a modest voice to the king 'Oh king! this poison is not of an ordinary quality A very small quantity of it can kill a thousand persons one after another It penetrates the body of a person who merely touches the person whose body has been affected by it Thus it can successively penetrate a thousand bodies after which it becomes ineffective That is why it is called sahasavedhin An experiment was then made on an elephant and it proved a success The king became very glad

3 Ajyasena King of Vasamtapura(3) Gunacandra and Balacandra were his attendants. Once while going out with the king at night they lost their swords in the way. They made a thorough search but the swords could not be traced. Under this circumstance Gunacandra pledged withdrawal of his right of possession of the sword. Balacandra left the problem as it was. After a few days the swords were recovered and placed before the king. He summoned both of the attendants and asked them to take their swords back. Balacandra took his sword back whereas Gunacandra expressed his inability to accept it. He said to the king: "In order to avoid my association with the sin resulting from the use of the sword I have withdrawn my right to have it. This sword now does not belong to me." The king was very glad to hear it.

persons including Bamdhumati with it. Now it became a practice for him to kill seven persons daily (including one woman). People stopped passing that way. Once Mahāvira happened to arrive outside the city of Rāyagiha. One had to pass through the passage held by Ajjuna to go to see Mahāvira. Sudamsana(8) a staunch follower of Mahāvira despite restrictions and requests from all sides started for visiting Mahāvira. Ajjuna raised the mallet to kill him but it could not come down. The attack proved a failure because the yakṣa had already left the body of Ajjuna. Being deeply impressed by Sudamsana, Ajjuna accompanied him, reached Mahāvira, heard the sermon, renounced the world and attained liberation.²

Attana A wrestler of Ujjeni Sīhagiri(2) the king of Soparaga used to arrange a wrestling competition every year. The winner received a huge amount of money along with a triumphal flag. Attana did not participate in the contest and with pride veiled his face. Sīhagiri took it to be an insult. He did not like to see the prize going to an outsider every year. He prepared his own wrestler as a rival of Attana. Next year when the competition took place Attana was defeated. As a counter measure Attana planned to prepare another wrestler to give defeat to the wrestler of king Sīhagiri. While going from Soparaga to Surattha he saw a farmer Phalihamalla near Bharuyaccha ploughing with one hand and plucking cotton with the other. He was much impressed by him. He took him to Ujjeni. There he trained him in the art of wrestling. Next year the wrestler of king Sīhagiri was defeated by this new wrestler the pupil of Attana ¹

Anuttara-mahāpuraya (Anuttara-mahanaraka) Five last hellish abodes in the nether world. They are most dreadful and are situated in the seventh infernal region Tamatamappabhā. Their names are Kāla (9) Mahakāla (6) Roraya, Mahāroraya and Appatīṭhāpa.

1 Sth 451 SthA p 341

Anuttaravimāṇa (Anuttaravimāṇa) Anuttara literally means the best the highest. The following are the highest heavenly abodes Vijaya(21) VeJayanta(1) Jayanta(4) Aparājiya(6) and Savvatthasiddha(1). They are situated above Gevijjaga abodes and below Isippabhārā(2). Their height measures 1100 yojanas.³ The age of the gods dwelling there ranges from 31 to 33 sāgaropama years.⁴ Other details are also given in a number of works.⁵ The gods having the maximum span of life in these abodes get liberated in their next birth as human beings.

Abhaa (Abhaya) Son of king Senia(1) of Rayagiha born of Nandā(1) at Bennātada He is a well known figure in the canonical literature of the Jainas. He is frequently quoted to illustrate intelligence in general and reasoning in particular ² For the first time when he along with his mother went to Rāyagiha, he exhibited his power of reasoning Senia was so impressed by his originality of thinking that he made him his chief maister The following is the example of his reasoning (autpattikabuddhi) --

Once a ring belonging to the king fell into a dry well. An announcement was made to the effect that the person taking out the ring with his own hand but without using any instrument would be highly rewarded. None else but Abhaa could do the job. He threw some fresh cow-dung on the ring. After a day or two when it got dry the well was filled up with water. Consequently the cow dung enveloping the ring came up on the surface of the water. Abhaa took it away with his hand and handed it over to the king.

Abhaa is said to be proficient in all the śāstras and statecraft. He even looked after all the duties of the king. He married the daughter of Senā(3) the sister of king Sena.⁷ He helped a Vidyadhaa and in exchange he learnt some lore from him.⁸ He invoked a deity and fulfilled the pregnancy longing of her step-mother Dhārini(1).⁹ He helped his father eloping with Cellanā from Vesālī.¹⁰ A peculiar pregnancy longing of Cellana was very cleverly fulfilled by him. To foster friendship with Addaa(2) he presented an image of Titthayar. Usaha(1) to him. Sulasa was his friend. Abhaa on the strength of his pa amik baddh deceived king Pajjoa and made him retreat from Rāyagīha. Pajjoa took revenge by getting Abhaa captured with the help of a courtesan. He was then carried to Ujjeni. But on account of his wisdom and valuable suggestions he was soon released by Pajjoa and thereby became friends. Pajjoa got pleased with Abhaa because the latter pointed out that there was poison in the sweets (m daka) brought by Lohajamgha. He suggested the way of subduing a mad elephant Nalagiri. He showed the plan of putting out the devatating fire and lastly he suggested the remedy of undoing a calamity caused by a deity.⁶ After his release Abhaa did not sit quiet. He again thought of a plan of abducting Pajjoa in daylight. He played the trick of a physician and by the stratagem of a fictitious mad king he took away Pajjoa to Ryagha. This is an example of his par m kī buddh.⁷

When Kāśhapriya was severely suffering on his death-bed Abhaa helped him dying peacefully¹⁸ Sena was so much pleased with Abhaa that he offered him the crown but the latter refused it¹⁹ and became a disciple of Tittthayara Mahāvira²⁰ He would be reborn in the celestial abode Vijaya(21) and would get emancipation in Mahāvideha(1)²¹

Some other anecdotes associated with Abhaa are — getting one-pillar palace constructed through a deity²² searching out a thief who stole mangoes from the palace garden²³ setting Seyanaya free from an alligator²⁴ saving Cellana's life by not setting fire to her palace inspite of the orders from Sena²⁵ finding out the people who were really religious and those who pretended to be so²⁶ catching a washerman red handed who wore Abhaa's clothes sent for laundry²⁷ stopping people from abusing a wood-cutter who had renounced the world²⁸ and his attempt to capture the thief Rohmiya²⁹

Agama The term Agama occurring in the Ayara is explained by its commentator as teachings of an omniscient² In the same sense it is also used in other works³ In th Bhagav tī while defining the vya aha a Agama is differentiated from Suya According to its commentator Agama means the knowledge of a keval n (omn scient) as well as of a manah paryayajñānin avadhyanin and of those who are learned in the fourteen ten or nine Puvvas
whereas Suya (śruta) means a a p akalpa etc i e the rest of the scriptures (excluding those coming under Agama) Agama is also said to be one of the four means of knowledge the other three being pratyaksa a mana and upama Agama is of three types namely (i) atmagama which is the knowledge acquired by the self i e the knowledge of a Titthamkara, (ii) anantaragama which is acquired directly from a Titthamkara i e the knowledge of a Gopahara and (iii) paramparagama which is acquired by tradition i e the knowledge of the disciples of Gaṇaśaras⁷ Again it is variously classified as sūtrāgama (sūtrāgama) arthagama (arthagama) and *ubhayagama*⁸ as well as laukika and lokottara.⁹ That which is preached by the men of wrong faith is called laukika viz Bhāraha(2) Rāmāyana etc That which is preached by an omniscient (Arihanta) is lokottara and it constitutes *Dvāḷasamga Gupī-piḍaga*¹⁰ and fourteen *Puvvas*¹ Agama in the wide sense means the sacred scriptures as a whole¹² Agama is said to be eternal¹³ The other names of Agama are Sūya, Sutta (1) etc¹ See also Sūya and Pavayana

Ājīviya (Ajivika) One of the five Samana(1) sects ¹ It was founded by Gosāla ² Ajīviya is explained as one who follows ascetic life for the sake of livelihood ³ The followers of this sect used to observe austerities for gaining worldly fame respect and supernatural powers and with the help of all that they carried on their livelihood They seem to be using the science of asṭa ga mahanimitta for predictions

They had their own sacred literature called Ajīviyasutta The ṛyuta cyutaśrenikapaka ma is included in Paṇkamma ⁷ a sect of D tthi aya The chief tenets of this creed of fatalism are as follows It is an established fact that there are individual souls they experience pleasure and pain and on dying they lose their state of life But pleasure and pain are neither caused by the souls themselves nor by others It is allotted to them by Destiny ⁸ The soul of one who is pure will become free from bad Karmas but in that state it will again become defiled through pleasant excitement or hate As clear water that was free from defilement becomes again defiled when shaken so will be the soul ⁹ There is no free will and all is predetermined Gosala's principal teaching was natth utth e i v kamme i vā bale i va viri i va purisakkara parakkame i v niyay savva bhava ¹⁰ The souls are bound to attain liberation on due course ¹¹ At the end of the eighty four lakh mahakalpas having transmigrated through naṭa samyuthas seven d vasamyuthas seven samjñigarbha and seven paṭṭapariharas The seven divyasamyuthas are three manasas three manasotta as and one brahmaloka In this long period 560603 Karmas get destroyed Gosala preached eight finalisms (aṭṭha car maṣṣa caṭṭa pana geya natta c am jalikamma c pokkhalasamvattā mahameha c seya aa gamdhahatthi c mahasīlakamṭaa samgama) as well as four drinks and four unfit drinks (cattari pānagaṃ and cattāri apa gaṃ)

The story of Ayampula (2) reveals that Ajīviya monks could know the thoughts of others mind ¹² As regards the conduct of this sect it is said that Ajīviya monks used to keep some articles with them ¹⁴ and they remained naked ¹ they did not take bath ¹⁵ they used to take food prepared for them they had no control over their palate and they used to take food contaminated with living beings They were not used to keep control over their passions, body speech and mind They did not practice carefulness and meditation as the Jainas did ¹⁷ They used to beg at every house and sometimes at alternate house or the third house or seventh house They accepted the stalks of lotuses At the time of lightning they would not go for begging They used to perform penances seated in earthen pots They could get reborn after death at the most in the Accuya celestial region ¹⁸

Twelve prominent lay votaries of this sect are mentioned ¹⁹ Its lay votaries did not observe temporary amaṣṭika as the Jaina lay votaries did ²⁰ They used to take meat also ²¹ Hālāhalā was a staunch female lay votary and patron of this sect ²² Sāv tthi and Polāsapura were thriving centres of this sect ²³ According to Viyāhapannatti many of the Ajīviya monks gave up the leadership of Gosāla and joined the order of Ttthayara Mahāvira.²⁴

Ajīviya is also called Terāsiya masmuch as he admits a third state of souls besides those of the bound and liberated This state is that of rede filment after liberation ¹ Ajīviya is also known as Pamdarabhikkhu ²⁶

11 Ānanda A multimillionare householder of Vānlyaggāma Si ananda was his wife He was owner of fo r cattle sheds each cons sting of ten thousand cows He had accepted all the twelve ows of a p saka He was the first among the ten pr ncipal lay votaries of Titthayara Mahāvira¹

Imdabhūi, the first principal disciple of Mahāvira asked the latter if Ananda was destined to be a monk in his present life. Mahāvira replied in negative and said that he would live the life of an upasaka for a period of twenty years and then after death would be born as a god in the Sohamma(1) region. Thereafter he would take birth in Mahāvideha(1) and attain liberation there.²

While Ananda lived the life of an upasaka for a period of fourteen years and was running the fifteenth year he thought that he had many distractions while at home and therefore decided to pass the remaining life in pausadhasala practising the eleven p atimas (standards or ideals) of an upāsaka. He therefore arranged a feast invited his friends and relations and in their presence entrusted the family affairs to his eldest son left the house and entered the pausadhasala.³ In the end he gave up all types of food including water. While living in this state of strict abstinence he acquired avadhi jñana (limited direct knowledge) having an extent of five hundred yojanas up to the seas in the east west and south and up to Cullahmavanta in the north. In the upward direction it reached the Sohamma celestial region and in the downward direction it reached the Loluyaccuya infernal abode. Ananda asked Imdabhūi if a householder could acquire avadhi jñana. Imdabhūi replied that he could. Thereupon Ananda told him the limits of his avadhi jñana. Imdabhūi however thought that householders could not obtain avadhi jñana of such a vast extent and hence asked Ananda to expiate for the wrong he had committed in telling a lie. Ananda levelled the same charge against Imdabhūi. The case was then referred to Mahāvira. Imdabhūi asked whether he or Ananda was in the wrong. Mahāvira said that Ananda was in the right and therefore Imdabhūi should confess his guilt and expiate for the same. He further directed Imdabhūi to ask the pardon of Ananda.⁴

Amalakappā (Amalakalpa) A town in Bhārahavāsa.¹ It is described in detail in Rāyapaseṇiya.² There was a grove of the name of Ambasālavapa(1) in its north east.³ Titthayara Pāsa(1) visited this place during the reign of king Jiyasattu(4) and at that time Kālī(3) renounced the world. Mahāvira visited this town during the reign of king Seya(1). Schismatic Tisagutta came here from Rāyagiha. Here he was convinced of the invalidity of his doctrine by Mittasiri. Amalakappa is identical with Allakappa of Buddhist literature.⁷ It was not very far from Vethadipa situated on the way from Masar a village six miles to the west of Arrah to Varāṇsī.⁸ According to another view it is identified with modern Bethia to the east of Gorakhpur and south of Nepal.⁹

ttā, (5) Logasāra (6) Dhūa (7) Mahāparippā (8) Vimokkha and (9) Uvāḥapaṇṇā. Of them the seventh i.e. Mahāparippā is extinct.¹ Each of these nine chapters is known as Bambhacera. The second section contains five cūḷas which are also known as Ayāraggas. They are – (1) Jāvagga hapaḍḍimā (2) Sattikkagā (3) Bhāṇa (4) Vimutti and (5) Ayārapakappa which is also known as Nisīha.² The first cūḷa consists of seven chapters. So is the case with the second one. The third as well as the fourth cūḷa consists of only one chapter.³ The fifth cūḷa i.e. Nisīha has been separated from Āyāra and now it enjoys an independent existence.⁴ Thus the second section has at present sixteen chapters. The second section is considered to be a later addition to the first one on the following grounds.⁵ (1) As suggested in Ayāraṇijjuttī (v 287) the Āyāraggas i.e. the five cūḷas have been composed by thāṇas who were śrīśākeśins. They extracted them from the first yakkhamdha (section) and duly elaborated. (2) The sources for the five cūḷas are definitely pointed out in Ayāraṇijjuttī (vv 288–291). (3) Śīlanakasur (the commentator) points out that three maṅgalas the first, the middle and the last from the first yakkhamdha only.⁶ (though the second section forms its part). (4) Both the yakkhamdhas evidently differ from each other in style and in the manner in which the subject is treated.⁷

Other names of Ayāra are Aṇṇa (2) Agara Agala Acāla Ajā Āmokkha Ayarisa Ayarakappa (1) Ayārasuyajjhayana and Asāsa. Āyāra will cease to exist after the death of Vinhu (7).

Asamitta (Aśvamitra) Fourth of the seven Nihavas He established the doctrine of Samuccheya which holds that everything is momentary that is everything perishes every moment Asamitta was grand pupil of Mahāgiri and pupil of Kōḍiṇṇa(1) Once while studying the Aṃupparāḍa Puvva he came across references like the infernal beings of the present moment will perish the celestial beings of the present moment will perish and so on Similarly the infernal beings as well as the celestial beings of the second moment etc will perish This provoked him to think that everything is momentary that is, it perishes immediately after its origination. This incident took place after 220 years of the death of Tittayara Mahāvira Later he realised that his doctrine was not flawless and he disowned it.

Āsāḍhabhūi (Asaḍhabhuti) A disciple of Dhammarui (2). Once he went to the house of Viśvakarman, a royal actor, to beg alms. He received one sweet ball from there. While coming out from the house, he thought that the preceptor would take the ball and he would get nothing. Hence he changed his form and went to the actor again. Thinking that the teacher would take the second ball too, he changed his form again and went to the actor's house a third time. Viśvakarman, seeing him coming in different forms, told his two beautiful daughters that if the man was fascinated, he would be very useful to them. The daughters succeeded in fascinating him. Asaḍhabhūi abandoned asceticism, married the girls and put on the dress of an actor. He became the leader of actors, achieving proficiency in the art of acting. He used to earn a lot of wealth by propitiating kings. He disliked wine and hence his wives also gave it up. Once a king ordered that only actors without any woman should perform a play at the court. The two wives of Asaḍhabhūi thought that their husband would not be at home that night and therefore they could take wine. They did accordingly and slept upstairs quite naked. The king postponed the performance owing to some reasons. Asaḍhabhūi returned from the court, saw the plight of the drunken wives, lost all attachment for the world and decided to renounce it. When Viśvakarman came to know about this, he reproached his daughters and sent them to conciliate him. They went to Asaḍhabhūi and requested him either not to renounce the world or to arrange for their maintenance. Asaḍhabhūi, along with five hundred princes, staged a drama before King Sīmha-ratha of Rāyagṛha. He played the part of Cakkavattī, Bharaha (1) and the princes that of his tributary kings. Actual scenes of fourteen jewels, mirror house, etc. were shown. At last, in the mirror house, Asaḍhabhūi, together with the five hundred princes, renounced the world and entered the state of asceticism after giving all the ornaments to his wives as the means of their support.

Indabhai or Indabhūti (Indrabhūti) Son of Vasubhūti⁽¹⁾ and Puhav⁽³⁾ of Gobbaragāma⁽¹⁾ Aggibhūti⁽¹⁾ and Vāubhūti were his brother. Since he descends from Goyama⁽²⁾ lineage (gotra) he is also known as Goyama⁽¹⁾. He was a great savant.³ He has the honour to be the first principal disciple of Ganahara of Tithayara Mahavira.⁴ Once he met Mahavira in a park of Majjhima Pāvā. There he discussed with him the problem of the existence of soul and was fully convinced by the latter regarding its existence. He was so impressed by him that along with his five hundred pupils he renounced the world and became Mahavira's first disciple. The gist of the discussion held between Indabhai and Mahavira in this connection is —

The existence of soul is doubtful since it is not directly perceived by the senses as is the case with a jar. Whatever imperceptible does not exist in the world e.g. a sky flower. The self is not an object of inference since inference too is preceded by perception and is the outcome of the recollection of a variable concomitance. There has not been previously seen any connection between the self and its mark; the recollection of which along with the sight of the mark can lead us to a conviction about the existence of the self. The self is not even within the range of scriptural authority since scripture is not entirely distinct from inference. Moreover the soul is not directly perceptible to any one whose words are called scripture. Besides the scriptural authorities are mutually contradictory. Hence the existence of soul cannot be established by any of the means of valid cognition. This is in brief the view of the opponent. It is refuted in the following way.

The self is directly experienced by all of us in the form of ahampratyaya i.e. the realisation as I in I did I do and I shall do — the realisation which is associated with the functions pertaining to all the three tenses. If there is no soul how do we realise I? How can there be a doubt whether the self is or not? Or if there is a doubt in whose case is this experience of I justifiable? Without a doubter who is beyond all kinds of doubt but still remains in all doubts no doubt is possible. The self which is the substratum of its attributes (cognition etc.) is self-evident owing to the attributes being self-evident as is the case with a pitcher. Thus it is proved that the soul exists.

An interesting dialogue between Goyama i.e. Indabhai and Kesi⁽¹⁾ a monk of the line of Tithayara Pāsa⁽¹⁾ is recorded in Uttarañjhayana.⁷ It indicates the way in which the union between the old sangha (church) of Pāsa and the new sangha of Mahāvira was brought about Kesi said to Goyama

I want to ask you something holy man Goyama made the following reply Sir ask whatever you like Kesi said The Law taught by Pāsa recognised only four vows whereas that of Mahāvira enjoins five Both Laws pursuing the same end what has caused this difference? Goyama replied The ascetics under the first Tittayara were simple but slow of understanding those under the last one prevaricating and slow of understanding and those between these two were simple and wise Hence there are two forms of the Law Kesi asked another question The Law taught by Mahāvira forbids clothes whereas that of Pāsa allows an under and upper garment Both Laws pursuing the same end what has caused this difference? Goyama replied The various outward marks have been introduced in order to make the people recognise them as such The reason for introducing the characteristic marks is their usefulness for religious life and their distinguishing character In fact right knowledge right faith and right conduct are the true causes of liberation and not the outward marks ⁸ Mahāvira once advised Goyama to confess his guilt before Ananda (11) who was simply a lay votary and to ask for his pardon for he had misgotten Ananda He further asked him to expiate for the same Mahāvira once consoled Imdabhui by predicting You shall also attain omniscience like me ⁹ The name of Imdabhu is frequently mentioned in the canonical literature There he puts questions and Mahāvira answers ¹⁰ He obtained omniscience immediately after the emancipation of Mahāvira to whom he was very much attached He attained emancipation in Rāyagṛha after enjoying a life of ninety two years in all Ascetic Koṭṭha (5) along with his five hundred pupils was a disciple of Imdabhui ¹¹

Elasāḍha (Ailaṣadha) One of the four knaves of Dhuttakkhāpa. He narrated his experience before the three knaves in the following way

Once I went in a forest with my cows. Some thieves appeared there all of a sudden. I hid all my cows in a blanket and tied them in a cloth. I ran to the village with the bundle on my head. After a little while the thieves also entered the village. The villagers out of fear entered a fruit called valumka. The fruit was eaten by a she-goat. The she-goat was swallowed by a bo-constrictor. The bo-constrictor was eaten by a bird. The bird flew and sat on a banyan tree. One of its legs was hanging downwards. An elephant of the army of a king got entangled in the hanging leg. The bird started flying along with the elephant. It was then killed with an arrow. When its stomach was ripped open the bo-constrictor came out. When the stomach of the bo-constrictor was ripped the she-goat came out and so on.

1 Kumḍakolia (Kundakolika) A householder of Kampillapura Pūsa was his wife. He was one of the ten principal lay votaries (pasaka) of Mahāvira¹. He had an interesting discussion with a god regarding the doctrine of Determinism (nijātada) advocated by Gosāla. Kumḍakolia asked the god who was praising the philosophy of Gosāla as to why he alone attained his present divine position without any exertion and why other creatures who were also without exertion did not attain similar high positions? The very fact that there are some creatures as gods, some as human beings, some as animals and others as infernal beings proves that the difference in their status etc. must be due to their own acts. Thus the doctrine of Gosāla is untenable. The god on hearing this argument got puzzled and left the place.

Kulagara (Kulakara) Law-giver or Governor Seven¹ ten² or fifteen³ Kulagaras, as different traditions go take birth in the middle-division of the southern half of the Bharaha(2) region lying between the rivers Gangā and Sindhu(1) in the Sasamaddissamā period of every Osappini and Ussappini They initiate laws for maintaining peace and order In case of the seven Kulagaras in the Osappini cycle the first two inflict the hakkara (disapproval) punishment the next two add to it the makkara (warning) and the last three the dhikkara (reproach) punishment Thus when gradually the severity of offences increases the punishment becomes harsher and harsher In the tradition of fifteen Kulagaras the first Titthayara Usaha(1) is taken as the fifteenth Kulagara who introduces physical punishments in addition to the above ones Similar is the case in the Eravaya(1) region In the Ussappini cycle the conditions become viceversa In this Osappini the following Kulagaras were born in Bharaha(2) forming the group of seven 1 Vimalavāhana(6) 2 Cakkhuma 3 Jasama 4 Abhicanda(1) 5 Pasenai(4) 6 Marudeva(2) and 7 *Nābhi*⁷ The names of the group of ten Kulagaras of this Osappini are not available but those of other cycles are given⁸

The group of fifteen Kulagaras of Bharaha(2) of this Osappini is as follows — 1 Sumai(1) 2 Padissui(2) 3 Simamkara(3) 4 Simamdhara(3) 5 Khemamkara(4) 6 Khemamdhara(1) 7 to 10 as the first four from the above group of seven 11 Camdabha(2) 12 to 14 as the last three from the above group of seven and the fifteenth is Titthayara Usaha(1)⁹

The following ten Kulagaras appeared in Bharaha(2) in the past Osappini¹⁰ Sayamjala(2) Sayāu(2) Ajjasena(5) Anamtasena(3) Kajjasena Bhimasena(2) Mahābhimasena Daḥharaha(4) Dasaraha(2) and Sayaraha(1) In the Sthananga¹ there is difference in some names and their order because Sayajjala(1) Anamtasena(3) Amitasena and Takkasena are mentioned as the first third fourth and fifth Kulagaras The rest of the names and their order are the same The following seven² were born in the Bharaha(2) region in the past Ussappini: Mittadāma, Sudāma(1) Supāsa(6) Sayampabha(2) Vimalaghosa Sughosa(1) and Mahāghosa(6)

The names of the seven would be Kulagaras³ of the Bharaha(2) region are as follows Mittavāhana or Miyavāhana(2) Subhoma(2) or Subhūma(3) Suppabha(2) Sayampabha(1) Datta(3) Subuma or Suba and Surūva(3) or Subamdhā(2) The Titthogālī differs in this connection It gives the following names of the seven would be Kulagaras of Bharaha(2) Vimalavāhana(9) Sudāma(2) Samgama(3) Supāsa(5) Datta(3) Supaha and Sumai(5)⁴

The Sthānāṅga contains altogether a different list of ten Kulagaras of the coming Ussappini in the Bharaha(2) region and the names given there are as follows Simamkara(2) Simamdhara(2) Khemamkara(3) Khemamdhara(2)

Vimalavāhana(7) Sammai(3) Padisuta Dadhadhanu(1) Dasadhānu(1) and Sayadhānu(1)¹ These names agree with those of the future ten Kulagaras of the Eravaya(1) region as given in the Samavayanga except some variation in order of the names which are as follows Vimalavāhana(8) Sīmamkara(1), Sīmamdharma(1) Khemamkara(1) Khemamdharma(3) Dadhadhanu(2) Dasadhānu(1) Sayadhānu(2) Padisui(1) and Sumai(2)²

The Tittthogali records the tradition of seven would be Kulagaras of the Eravaya(1) region Their names are Vimalavāhana(8) Vmlavāhana(2) Dadhadhanu(2) Dasadhānu(1) Sayadhānu(2) Padisui(1) and Sumai(2) The order of the names of this tradition agrees partly with Samavayanga.⁷

The above survey reveals that the confusion has arisen due to different traditions and different redactions of the canonical literature

1 Kesi (Keśin) A preceptor of the line of Tīrthayara Pasa(1) He is also known as Kumārasamāna. One day he was sitting in a garden called Timduga(1) outside the town of Sāvatthi whereas Goyama (Imdabhu) the first principal disciple of Tīrthayara Mahāyasa was staying in the Kotthaga(1) garden of the same town. The pupils of both of them who controlled themselves who practised austerities who possessed virtue and who protected their self made the following reflection. Is our law the right one or is the other Law (the Law of Pasa or the Law of Mahāvīra) the right one. A man's conduct and doctrine right or the other. The Law as taught by Pasa which recognised four laws or the Law taught by Mahāvīra which recognises five virtues? The Law which forbids clothes for a monk or that which allows an under and upper garment? Both pursuing the same end what has caused the difference. Knowing the thought of their pupils both Kes and Goyama made up their minds to meet each other.³ Goyama knowing what is proper and what due to the lord's section of the church went to the Timduga garden accompanied by his disciples. Kes received him with full respect. Goyama answered all the questions put by Kes thoroughly and gently. In this meeting of Kes and Goyama the subjects of the great stampāna were settled. For the nature and topics of the discussion see Imdabhu.

Kes had another discussion with king Paesi of Seyaviya. Paesi had no faith in the independent existence of soul and body. He recognised them as accidental. Kes convinced him on the strength of empirical arguments that soul is an independent entity different from body.

He was the last omniscient of the current Osappini³ Arya Pabhava was his successor. In some of the canonical texts Jambu is referred to as putting questions to Suhamma and the latter in reply recites the texts. Whereas in some of the canonical texts neither of the two are referred to but the opening words in them

Suyam me ausam' tenam Bhagavaya evamakkhayam are as the commentators explain of Suhamma in reply to the question from Jambu. Itti bemi also generally occurs in the end of the chapters of the canonical works. These words according to the commentators refer to the end of a speech by Suhamma. Thus we find that some of the canonical works are reproduced by Suhamma in reply to the questions put by Jambu

1 Jamālī A prince of Khattiyakumdagāma.¹ He belonged to Kosiā(5) gotra² He was son of Sudamsapā(1) and husband of Piyadamsapā³ He renounced the world and became a disciple of Mahāvira

Afterwards he propounded at Sāvattihī his new doctrine holding the view that whatever is being done should not be regarded as done whatever is done i.e. completed should be taken as done⁴ Mahāvira held that what is passing through the process of performance and is shortly going to be completed can be taken as performed from a particular view point Jamālī differed from him in this matter He observed that when a thing is definitely done then and then alone it can be taken as done A thing which is still in the process of being done cannot be taken as such Thus Jamālī was an extremist absolutist He is regarded as the first Nibbava. After death he was born as a god of Lantaa-Kappa.

three kinds of knowledge⁷ (matīḥṛuta a adhi) and when he enters the ascetic life [he develops the fourth knowledge e.g. *manahparyāya*⁸]. He excels even Cakkavattis Baladevas(2) and Vāsudevas(1)⁹ in all respects such as structure form complexion knowledge power courage etc. He is a Sayambuddha(1) (getting enlightenment of his own accord)¹⁰. There are thirtyfour eminences (atīṣṭy s supernatural things) associated with him¹¹. Five important occasions in his life viz. entering the womb of his mother (cy an) taking birth (i m) renouncing the world (niskrama a) attaining omniscience (k ala) and emancipation (nirvāna) called pañcakalyanaka are celebrated by gods who descend on the earth, say songs of praise, attend upon him, make shower of precious things and flowers, perform his ablution ceremony, construct the audience hall (samosarana) and do many other things which add to his greatness and hence his supernaturalness. He performs Samadhi and attains mokṣa (emancipation)¹². He is addressed with a number of epithets such as Adakara, Lakṣadipa, Dharmatā, atāṭakārtin, *Buddha*¹ and as Dharmacarya also.

In every cycle of Usappin and O appin the reappear twentyfour Titthayaras in the Bharaha(2) as well as the Eravaya(1) region¹. Twentythree of them take birth in Dāsamasusama period and one in Susamaddāsama. In the whole of Samayakhetta there exist twenty at the minimum and one hundred seventy Titthayaras at the maximum⁸. In the Jambuddiya alone there exist four (all in Mahāvadeha) at the minimum and thirtyfour [one in Eravaya(1) and Bharaha(2) each and thirtytwo in the same number of districts Vijayas(23) of Mahāvadeha] at the maximum⁹.

The first and the last Titthayara preached pñcayama (five vows) and aceladharmā (nakedness) and the rest did catuyama (four vows) and saceladharmā (use of clothe). This structure in the case of Eravaya(1) too and both the cycles. In Mahāvadeha there always prevails *catuyama dharmā*². Nineteen of the twentyfour Titthayaras of Bharaha(2) renounced

Dasaveāhya or Dasaveyāhya (Daśavaikalika) An Amgabāhira Ukkāliya text¹ Its original name seems to be Dasakaliya² According to its nijjuttī the title is based on two ideas viz number and time³ The term dasa indicates that this work consists of ten chapters and kaliya suggests that this work was extracted in day time (before the third pauruṣi was over)⁴

1 Nan 44 Pak p 43 SthA p 52

2 DasN pp 7 9 12

3 DasN p 7

4 DasN and DasH pp 1 9 12

The word veyāliya used instead of Kalya signifies that this work can be read or recited at Viyāla-Vikāla, i.e. in the evening.¹ Or the text which was extracted by preceptor Sejjambhava for the welfare of his son monk Mapaga (from different Puvas) was systematically arranged at Viyāla.²

Dasaveyāliya is divided into ten chapters. Out of them the fifth has two sections and the ninth four. Except chapters fourth and ninth all the chapters are entirely in verse. Chapter fourth begins with a number of passages in prose whereas chapter ninth has some portions in prose intercepted by verses. The titles of all these chapters are significant. The work deals with monastic conduct. The chapters bear the following names: 1 Domapupphiyā – a parable pertaining to flowers of a tree 2 Sāmaṇṇapuvvaya – the chapter commencing with monkhood 3 Khuddiyāyārakāhā – a brief exposition of conduct 4 Chajjivaniya or Dhammapannatti – six groups of living beings or exposition of duty 5 Piṇḍesapa – search for food 6 Dhammatthakama or Mahāyārakāhā – desire for liberation or a detailed exposition of conduct 7 Vakkasuddhi – purity of speech 8 Āyārappanihi – treasure of conduct 9 Vinayasamāhi – devotion to discipline 10 Sabbikkha – a true monk or saint. Two Cūlas (appendices) have been appended to them at the end.³

Dasaveyāliya should be studied after Avassaga but before Uttarajjhayana.⁴ Some of the verses of Dasaveyāliya agree word by word with those of Uttarajjhayana.⁵ Similarly some prose passages occurring in Dasaveyāliya tally almost word by word with those of Ayāra.⁶ Titthogālī predicts that the extinction of the text of Dasaveyāliya will take place in V.N. 20900 and of its meaning in V.N. 21000.⁷

into five sections (1) Parikamma (2) Sutta(2) (3) Puvvagaya (4) Anuoga, and (5) Cūḷiya. These were further divided into various sub-sections⁵ It was permitted to be taught to a monk of nineteen years standing⁶ It required sixteen years to receive this text and twelve years to revise it⁷ It was in the time of Bhaddabāhu(1) that there occurred a twelve year famine. This seriously affected the study of the monks and resulted in their forgetting some portions of Ditthivāya. This fact came to the knowledge of the monks when they assembled in Pāḍaliputta after the famine had disappeared. Thereupon a batch of five hundred monks went to Bhadda bahu who was in Nepāla at that time to learn Ditthivāya since he was the only person who was then in a position to remember and teach it. All but Thūlabhadda left the place as they could not face the situation there. Thūlabhadda too however could not completely master even all the four teen Puvvas i.e. the Puvvagaya section as Bhaddabāhu withheld the meaning of the last four Puvvas from him because of some default on the part of the latter. Later on with the death of Thūlabhadda, even the verbal embodiment of these four Puvvas came to an end as he was debarred from teaching them to others⁸. Since then the knowledge of Puvvas went on decreasing. It was by V N 1000 that all the Puvvas got forgotten and thus Ditthivāya became extinct⁹.

According to the Digambara tradition also Bhaddabāhu(1) was the last Caturdaśapurvadhara. Viśakhacarya etc. were conversant with ten Puvvas only the last being Dharmasena (V N 345). Thereafter the knowledge of Puvvas went on decreasing and Dharmasena is said to be the last one who was conversant with two Puvvas only. Some say that after Sudharman only partial (ekadesiya) knowledge of Puvvas was available and no one knew completely. See CLJ pp 74-75. Kasayapahuda I Int p 48 Mathura 1944.

Ditthivāya literally means exposition of doctrines. This indicates that the real contents of Ditthivāya consisted of an exposition as well as refutation of different doctrines. It has ten significant names: Ditthi aya, Heuvāya, Bhūyavāya, Taccāvāya, Sammāvāya, Dhammāvāya, Bhāsāvāya, Puvvagaya, Anuoga and Sarvaspāṇabhūyajīvasattasāhāva¹⁰. On account of their importance the Puvvas or the Caturdaśapūrvas as a whole are known as Ditthivāya¹¹.

Disākumārī (Disākumārī) Disākumārī goddesses belong to the Bhavaṇaval class of gods. Among them there are 56 principal goddesses who are known as Disākumārīmahattarigās. Each one of them has a large retinue of other goddesses. Mount Ruyaga(1) is their main abode. It has four quarter wise divisions called as Eastern Western Northern Southern Ruyaga. Each division has eight peaks every peak presided over by a principal Disākumārī. Thus thirtytwo principal Disākumarīs reside on peaks four reside in the four subquarters of mount Ruyaga and other four in its middle region.² Eight dwell in the lower world (adhōloka) and other eight in the upper world (urdhvaloka).³ They are sportive and take part in the consecration ceremony of Tīthamkaras. The principal Disākumarīs of adhōloka viz Bhogamkāra, Bhogavai, Subhogā, Bhogamālī, Toyadhārā, Vicittā, Puppamālā and Apimāḍā build a maternity hall for the expectant mother of a Tīthamkāra⁴ and those of urdhvaloka viz Mehamkāra, Mehavai, Sumehā, Mehamālī, Suvacchā, Vaccamittā, Vārasenā and Balābagā purify the maternity hall with artificial rain.⁵ Nanduttarā(2), Nandā(8), Anandā(2), Nandivaddhā(2), Vijayā(2), Vejayantī(5), Jayantī(6) and Aparājā(6) the principal Disākumarīs of Eastern Ruyaga wait on the expectant mother holding mirrors in their hands.⁷ Ilādevī(1), Surādevī(2), Puhai(5), Paṇḍavā(16), Egapāsā, Nāvamiyā, Bhaddā(33) and Sīā(5) of Western Ruyaga wave fans. 2 Dhammaghosa A disciple of preceptor Dhammavasa¹ who is also called Dhammavaggu. He along with Dhammajasa(2) spent a rainy season at Vānāraśi observing fasts of the duration of one month. They were so resolute in practising the Uttaragunas that while crossing river Gangā they did not even think of taking water although they were very thirsty². While staying at Kosambi, Dhammajasa undertook to perform sallekhanā with the intention of winning praise and worship at the hands of the lay votaries as nun Vipayavatī had gained. But it so happened that the city was attacked by Avantisena and the ascetic left his mortal coils without receiving even usual services and his dead body was thrown out in the emergency⁴.

All the Amgabahira text whether Avassaya or Avassayavauritta are mentioned as Painnaga. Painnagajjhayana or *Painpa*² Śāntisuri excludes Uvāngas from the Painnaga class.³ The number of these texts is not fixed. It varies with every Titthamkara. It is said that in every tirtha the number of Painnagas corresponds to that of the disciples of the Jina endowed with four types of knowledge. Painnagas are composed by these disciples in accordance with the teachings of the Jina.⁴ There were eighty four thousand Painnagas in the tirtha of Titthayara Usaha(1) numerable in those of subsequent twenty two and fourteen thousand in that of Titthayara Mahāvira. In the current sixfold classification of the Agama there are ten Painnagas. They are as follows: Causarana, Āra paccakkhāna, Mahāpaccakkhāna, Bhattaparinnā, Tandulaveāli, Samthārāga, Gacchāyāra, Ganivijja, Devimdatthaya and Maranasamāhi. This number has been fixed since the time of Bhavaprabhasuri (1772 V S) but the names of the texts differ. Bhavaprabhasuri mentions Candāvijjhaya in place of Gacchayāra. In the Jaina Granthāvali three different sets of ten Painnagas are given. In the first set Virastava and Candravedhyaka replace Maranasamāhi and Gacchayāra. In the second set Ajvakaipa, Gacchācāra, Maranasamāhi, Siddhaprabhṛta, Tīrthodgāra (Titthogāli), Ārādhanaāpatākā, Dvipasāgaraprajñapti, Jyotiskarandaka, Amgavidyā and Tithi prakirnaka find mention and in the third set all the ten names are different viz Pimḍa viśuddhi, Saravali, Paryantaradhana, Jivavibhakti, Kavacaprakarana, Yoni prābhṛta, Angaculiya, Vṛddhacatuśārana and Jambupayanno.⁶

This section or work which is composed by Bhadrabāhu svamin² is divided into three parts. The first part deals with the life of Mahāvira Pāsa(1) Aritthaṇemi and Usabha(1) in detail whereas with that of the other Titthaṅkaras in brief. The life of Mahāvira occupies the major portion. In the second part we find a list of different monastic groups (ganas) their branches and their heads. The third part contains rules and regulations pertaining to the rainy season.⁴ It forms the real subject-matter of the work corresponding to its title. This work is popularly known as Kalpasutra. It is mostly in prose. It was read publicly for the first time in the court of king Dhruvasena of Apandapura in V N 980 or 993. It has a big number of commentaries.

capital of king Sayāniya¹³ to make Migāvaī(1) Sayāniya's wife as his own wife. Meanwhile, Sayāniya expired leaving behind his son Udāyana(2). Migāvaī cleverly took Pajjya into her confidence and gradually strengthened her position. She was successful in preserving her chastity and saving her territory. Finally she took asceticism from Mahāvira.¹³ Udāyana came to the throne of Kosambi. Princess Vāsavadattā being helped by Kamcanamālā eloped with Udāyana from Ujjeni.¹⁴ Pajjya also attacked king Seniya(1) of Rāyagīha but prince Abhaya(1) with his superior strategy forced Pajjya to retreat to Ujjeni. Pajjya took revenge upon Abhaya by capturing him. He commissioned a beautiful courtesan for this task. She and her assistants themselves disguising as lay votaries and monks went to Rāyagīha on a pilgrimage. Finding some suitable opportunity Abhaya was administered wine and carried away to Ujjeni as a prisoner of Pajjya. Abhaya while in captivity saved the life of the messenger of the king procured Udāyana by a strategy for favour of subduing the Nalagiri elephant, saved Ujjeni from being devastated by a fire and helped the whole city in recovering from a horrible epidemic with the help of Siva.¹⁵ Then Pajjya released him as he was pleased with his intelligence and cleverness. Abhaya on the other hand disguised himself as a merchant and along with two charming courtezans sojourned at Ujjeni. He hired a man who played the role of a madman shouting in the city that he was Pajjya. When real Pajjya got attracted towards the courtezans they asked him to meet them on the appointed day at a lonely place. As planned beforehand Pajjya was captured. As he was crying 'I am Pajjya the king' all took him as the madman. Thus he was kidnapped and taken away to Rayagīha as a prisoner. In due course he was set free. Pajjya attacked king Dummūha(3) of Pāncāla to obtain his marvellous diadem but he was defeated and taken prisoner. There he developed love with princess Mayapamamjari and obtained her as his wife with the consent of her father Dummūha.¹⁷ Pajjya kidnapped Devadattā(4) a maid servant of king Udāyana(1) of Vitibhaya as well as took away the image of Tithayara Mahavira from there. Udāyana then attacked and captured him as his prisoner. While on his way back to Vitibhaya Udāyana set him free as an act of forgiveness as he had observed the pajjusana festival marking his forehead with the following words: 'maidservant's husband'.¹⁸ Pajjya got Māhissara, a habitual adulterer, killed.¹⁹

Patteyabuddha (Pratyekabuddha) One¹ whose enlightenment (bodhi) is brought about by some external cause (bāhyapratyayamapeksya) is called a Patteyabuddha. He wanders all alone without having company or relation with any group (gaccha). He necessarily possesses the knowledge of Suya prior to his enlightenment. The difference between a Patteyabuddha and a Sayambuddha(1)—sayambuddha is that the latter does not require the help of any external cause for his enlightenment. He gets it of his own accord just as by the remembrance of his previous birth etc. He may or may not possess the scriptural knowledge and he generally wanders along with his group. Sayambuddhas are of two types viz. Titthamkaras and other than the former who attain enlightenment (omni science) Karakandu Dummuka(3) Nami Naggal(1) etc. were Patteyabuddhas.²

Pasannacanda (Prasannacandra) King of the city of Potanapura. He was son of Somacanda(2) and Dharinī(20). He handed over the kingdom to his minor son and took to asceticism. Once when he was engaged in contemplation he heard some one saying: King Pasannacanda has committed a blunder in renouncing the world and handing over the kingdom to his minor son. His ministers are now plotting to ruin the minor king together with his entire family. The queen has already left the palace and fled somewhere. This enraged the contemplating ascetic. He started a rigorous fight in thought against them. Later he realized the fact of his being a monk and not a king. He deeply repented for his evil thoughts, obtained omniscience and attained emancipation in the presence of Mahā

The five most important events of Pāsa's life occurred when the moon was in conjunction with constellation Viśahā (1) descending from heaven and entering into the mother's womb (2) birth (3) renunciation (4) omniscience and (5) emancipation²² As regards his name he was named Pasa in view of the fact the commentators say that before his birth his mother saw in the darkness a black serpent crawling near (pasa-paṭva) her bed²³ According to Sanskrit commentators Prabhavati the daughter of Pāsenajit was married to Pasa

When Mahāvira has referred to Pasa he has done so in reverential terms He calls him Arahā Purusadani²⁴ (ie worthy to be worshipped and followed) We have references to the effect that Mahāvira agreed with many of the teachings of Pasa viz asaṅkhejje loe (innumerable periods of the universe) ananta ratī ndya (infinite days and nights) Sasae lo na l loe (unending and beginningless universe) etc²⁵

Her mother did not like it and renounced the world. After her death she was born as a goddess. She wanted to enlighten her daughter. She showed scenes of hell and heaven to her daughter in dreams. Pupphacūla was frightened. Then her father asked the heretics about the conditions of hell and heaven. They were not able to give the true account. Acarya Annikāputta gave the correct description and the deeds which lead to that type of existence. Pupphacūla then accepted asceticism from that Acarya with the condition that she would accept alms from her father's house. In due course she attained omniscience. Once while crossing river Gangā in a boat she along with others was drowned in the river. That place came to be known as Payaga. See also Payāga.
